the claim jumbers and describing the topography of the country.

Alvin Mason was first on the stand. He testified that he entered the Marble creek region in May, 1901, and thought Jack Simpkins came in February, 1903. Simpkins squatted on the land afterwards claimed by Fred Tyler. Mason said he understood the land mason said in that county was open to settlers. He had never filed a homestead appliation for his claim and did not think Simpkins ever filed a homestead claim. He described the trails, especially one between Simpkins' and Price's claims. Newt Glover said he settled about a mile and a balf from the Simpkins elaim in 1903. Engstrom, Mason and Glover, he thought, were the first settlers in that vicinity, having carried their goods on their backs. In 1904, he said, a lot of jumpers came, the prinsaid, a lot of Junger Boule, Tyler, Phillips cipal ones being Boule, Tyler, Phillips and Lindsey. Glover says they never dered.

Had Consumption. E. H. Jones, Pastor M. E. Church, Grove, Md., writes: "About seven or eight years ago I had a very severe cold which physicians said was very near pneumonia, and which they afterwards nounced consumption. Through a friend I was induced to try a sample of Foley's Honey and Tar, which gave me so much relief that I bought some of the regular size. Two or three bottles cured me of what the physicians called consumption, and I have never had any trouble with my throat or lungs since that time."
